About Us

Foresight, the name is Success, the adage in common business parlance was proved correct once again when LEXICON SHIPPING AGENCIES PVT. LTD. was founded by the success business house of Shrivastava's in 1979. The Company never languished in status since then but has constantly grown in spite of cutthroat competition in the field. Past two decades of its existence LEXICON never swerved from its original motto of Service before Profit.

The seed for formation of LEXICON was laid down when Sadhna Movers was incorporated in Gandhidham in the business of Transportation. When the Indian Economy was in its nascent stage, the promoters of LEXICON foresighted the potential growth in the International Trade and Cargo Industry. Thus, today our expertise in the Customs and Central Excise Law, led the company strategically move from logistics into customs brokerage and became the Government of India's registered Customs House Agent, in the name of Lexicon Freight International Pvt. Ltd having a broad business vision and in making untiring efforts to carry out its mission.

Having the opportunity in the industry, LEXICON took the full advantage and evolved the service portfolio with total logistical solutions covering custom clearance, freight forwarding, shipping, air freight, consolidation, sea-air, inland haulage (transportation), warehousing and cross trading. Thus, offering all the logistical support under one roof with its extensive experience of strategic management, professionalism, and enthusiasm.

We do believe that in the service industry, only the management is not responsible for the activities and task performed in the organization. It is the employees because of which we can serve our customers very efficiently and effectively. So, here in LEXICON, we do ensure that our employees are always dedicated and motivated towards their tasks and responsibilities.

Corporate Philosophy

At LEXICON we believe that each client needs are different and unique. Our vast experience and efficient hands-on management style ensure that all customers get a tailor-made package as per the requirement.
